MANERO POWERRESERVE

BRAND PHILOSOPHY

Entrepreneurs are people who have an idea and who dare to do something new. They follow their vision and their own path. Carl Friedrich Bucherer expertly blended tradition with innovation by blending the jeweler's filigree craft with the watch maker's precision. In 1888, out of his passion for watchmaking, he formed his first company in Lucerne, a company which has always been and still is owned entirely by the family. Right up to the present day, the founder's philosophy has been reflected in the Carl F. Bucherer brand and its timepieces. As the only watch brand to have its origins in Lucerne, Carl F. Bucherer has been able to develop in its own unique way.

Your watch

With its precise CFB A1011 mechanism of our own design with a peripheral rotor and power reserve display, the Manero PowerReserve combines high functionality with sophisticated technology. The changing optics of the dial successfully transition in the stainless steel case. The Manero PowerReserve skilfully combines classic and modern components in its design and its technology.

Technical Data

Automatic movement	CFB A1011
Depth of the movement	6.3 mm
Diameter of the movement	32 mm
Number of jewel bearings	33
Water resistance	30 m (3 atm)
(see the chapter on "Water resistance")

Start the watch

The movement is wound by the motion of the wrist when worn. When not worn, the watch stops after approximately 55 hours and has to be wound manually.

- 1 Rotate the crown clockwise until the power reserve indication hand has gotten at least to the middle of the scale.
- 2 The entire scale area displays a power reserve of about 55 hours.

Set time

In order for the date to properly move at midnight, the hour hand must intentionally be set to a.m. or p.m. based on the current time.

- 1 Pull the crown until it is in position 2. The second hand does not move.
- 2 Move the crown counter-clockwise until the date changes. Then deliberately set the current time either a.m. or p.m.
- 3 Push the crown back to the initial position. The second hand is back in motion.

Set date/day

Warning: it is not recommended to use the quick set function between the hours of 9 p.m. and 1 a.m.

1 Pull the crown into position 1.

2 Set the current date by rotating the crown clockwise.

3 Set the current day of the week by rotating the crown counterclockwise.

Secure the crown

Important: To ensure water resistance, the crown must be in the initial position when the watch is worn.

1 Push the crown back to the initial position.

Cleaning and maintenance

Cleaning: To clean the outer surface of the watch, wipe it gently with a microfiber cloth. Use a fine toothbrush and a bit of soapy solution to clean the back of the watch and the metal band. Dry using a lint-free towel. Minimize contact between the leather straps and the water.

Maintenance: As a mechanical instrument, a watch requires maintenance by an authorized service center about once every four years.

Water resistance

A watch tested to 3 atm (30 m) is resistant to sweat, drops of water and rain. Water resistance is guaranteed only if the crown is in the initial position and should be checked once per year.

The binding nature of meter data:

30 m (3 atm)	Do not swim/dive
50 m (5 atm)	Bath, shower, swim
100 m (10 atm)	Swim, snorkel
200 m (20 atm)	Swim, snorkel, dive
300 m (30 atm)	Deep-sea diving

Guarantee

Your Carl F. Bucherer watch was made with great care by our watchmakers using the strictest quality guidelines. However, if there is a defect in materials or manufacture, Carl F. Bucherer provides a two-year guarantee from the date of purchase. The guarantee does not cover normal wear and tear or damage caused by improper use of the watch. The guarantee is valid if the guarantee certificate was filled out completely by an official Carl F. Bucherer dealer when the watch was purchased. If there is damage, please contact your official Carl F. Bucherer dealer or an official Carl F. Bucherer service center. Please provide the watch with the fully-filled-out guarantee certificate.
